

Spring 2020

IDigest - Bite-sized strategies for teaching online

Program Symposium Ahoy!

It's getting to that time of year again! The faculty symposia for the Flex, Collaborative, and Independent Learning programs are right around the corner!

Watch your email for the sign-ups, and we can't wait to see you there!

Flex Faculty Symposium

May 19, 2020

Collaborative and Independent Learning Faculty Symposium

June 1-2, 2020

Instructional Design Blog

Covering topics from what it means to be an instructional designer to boosting student engagement in online discussions, our blog is chock-full of hand-picked content to improve your and your students online education

Two for One Special: Mid-Course Surveys & Four Effective Revisions

Have you ever wondered what your students are thinking and if your course is effective? Ask your students for feedback with with mid-course surveys!

We've also brought together four quick examples of successful revisions and gotten the instructors' perspectives on how those changes came to be!

Faculty Spotlight: Rich Freese

Instructor Rich Freese and instructional designer Eric Peloza met to talk about Rich's secret sauce for cooking up experience.

award-winning revisions.

Visit our Blog!

Read the full interview here

Interested in sharing your insights in a future Spotlight Corner? Contact Eric Peloza at eric.peloza@uwex.edu.

Webinars

This Seems...Backwards: Using Backward Design During Course Design and Development

4/22/2020 @ 12:00–1:00 pm CST

Course Renovations

Recorded Webinar